

Port of Halifax – COVID-19 Update – December 2, 2020

The Halifax Port Authority work from home guidelines will be extended until after the holidays and will be re-evaluated early in the New Year.

All HPA non-essential employees who can work from home are asked to do so. Please consult with your supervisor if you have any questions or concerns.

It remains important for all Nova Scotians to strictly adhere to public health orders and directives by practicing good hand washing and other hygiene steps, maintain physical distancing as necessary, wear face masks, and limit all non-essential activities and travel. Additional restrictions for the Halifax area can be found here.

Thank you for your ongoing support and commitment to safety.

Captain Allan Gray
President and CEO
Halifax Port Authority
